SUBJECTS -CRIMINOLOGY, FORENSICS & SOCIAL HISTORY

Former Detective Chief Inspector-New Scotland Yard

Present: Private Investigator

During his 34 years in the police service Rod progressed through the ranks to Detective Chief inspector. He has developed an interest in some of the world’s leading criminal minds who committed both detected and undetected serious crime

He has experience not only as a Scotland Yard Detective, but also with the New York Narcotics Squad, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and the Carabinieri in Italy.

His presentations build upon his unrivalled police experience, and his work as a private investigator, and have enthralled audiences worldwide.

From basic down to earth policing to the introduction of DNA and beyond, Rod will take you through the whole gambit of criminal investigations, and in some cases, their social history and even the possible corruption involved.

During his service he specialised in criminal investigations including murder, armed robbery, major drug importation conspiracies and kidnapping, being nationally trained as a hostage negotiator, as well as serving in the Special Branch.

He set up the Drug Profit Confiscation Unit for the force and worked as an Investigator and Supervisor. Rod was also seconded to the Regional Crime Squad and was also the first officer to be posted to New Scotland Yard in the Central Drugs Intelligence Unit.

On his retirement from the police Rod set up his own Private Investigations Company, Repton Consultancy Ltd, which has a sister company in New York.

Rod has an honours degree in Criminology, Sociology and Psychology. He is president of the Derby and Derbyshire Speakers Club. His hobbies include armchair investigations of unsolved crimes, walking, watching football and gardening.

During the past ten years he has presented on the following cruise lines

P&O, Celebrity, Princess, Royal Caribbean, Marella, Saga, Fred Olsen and Ambassador.
